Little Scraps of News
February 2010 Vol. 3

Aloha Fellow Crafters,

We spent a fabulous three day weekend celebrating our fourth anniversary.

Saturday, February 12th, the butterfly pop-out card was too beautiful to miss. There were 3 tiers of enchanting butterflies fluttering out when the card was opened. On Sunday, February 13th, we made whimsical berry baskets with flower adornments. Ready to be filled with fun and delicious treats. Monday, February 15th, was a free to be creative day.

The naked 7 Gypsies matchbook (natural craft color) was used to enable the 'artist' to stamp and glue whatever she was able to find in the 'treasure' box of goodies that had ribbon, brads, flowers, die cuts, bling, little majong tiles, miniature playing cards, etc. The little matchbook journals were fabulous! Our secret sales were a very big hit with 50% off of Queen and Company, all Taj and Lasting Impressions Stencils, and all wood block stamps! We were having a blast.

The Elizabeth Designs peel-off stickers and glitter arrived and Bill is fast entering every article into inventory. My hands are itching to use the new glitter and the glitter 'magnet cloth'. The peel-off sticker designs are just so magical I am going dizzy with anticipation.

7 Gypsies is dancing out our door in the arms of happy shoppers. All who have come in and were introduced to 7 Gypsies unbelievable once in a life time prices, suffered from 'drop jaw' syndrome. The cure was to fill their shopping baskets. Will I have enough to sell at Scrapper's Jam, my customers are saying "not very much", as they wheel their loaded shopping basket to the next item that have caught their eye. The mini spiral journals, teenie weenie journals (oops sold out), acrylic journals, adhesive rub-on kits, clear stamps, decorative overlays, ATC tins (oops sold out) double sided beautimus (no I did not spell it wrong, it's craft talk) paper, bling, paper ribbons, folding pockets, double hole punch Binderie! Such a zippity do dah portable punch! This magnificent machine can punch through Book Board which is thicker than chip board. If I had a tambourine I may dance around the store like a gypsy.

Again Bill and Art are hard at work introducing a few more stamp and stencil designs to our store; Eggspecially For You stamp, Bunnies Stamp (3 cuties in a row), Eggs in a Bunch stencil and the 3 graduated size Card Template (looks like frames) stencils.

I played with the new Kirigami Template from Hot Off The Press and had loads of fun cutting out the Cherry Blossom and Wild Orchid. I outlined them with the Spica glitter pens and did a quilt stitch around the orchid, now I will have to try it with designed paper, oh am I smiling from ear to ear?

It is time for the Sassy Paper Hat Society to start creating those bonnie covers for our beautiful heads! Check the Activities section for date and time.
